DISAM JOURNAL FEATURE ARTICLE

The USCG's Integrated Deepwater System --
Creating Opportunities for Enhanced
Interoperability with America's Friends and Allies

This Journal's feature article is on the U.S. Coast Guard, an agency that has dramatically changed in its mission focus since September 11th. The U.S. Coast Guard deepwater programs are driving the organization's future, involving industry along with our international partners in the effort. Another article follows, outlining the Coast Guard's CONUS international courses, numbering over 400 and including the International Maritime Officers School, along with the training teams that visit over fifty countries, impacting 2,500 students each year.
